The Americans had joined in the fight, bringing the Allies closer to victory against the Germans.. Then, in pockets across the globe, something erupted that seemed as benign as the common cold.

As noted in the Journal of the American Medical Association final edition of 1918: 'The 1918 has gone: a year momentous as the termination of the most cruel war in the annals of the human race; a year which marked, the end at least for a time, of man's destruction of man; unfortunately a year in which developed a most fatal infectious disease causing the death of hundreds of thousands of human beings.. The influenza of that season, however, was far more than a cold Global Spread Of World War I On Flowvella AppIn the two years that this scourge ravaged the earth, a fifth of the world's population was infected.. Now it must turn with its whole might to combating the greatest enemy of all--infectious disease,' ().. An estimated 43,000 servicemen mobilized for WWI died of influenza (Crosby) 1918 would go down as unforgettable year of suffering and death and yet of peace.. Known as 'Spanish Flu' or 'La Grippe' the influenza of 1918-1919 was a global disaster.

Deep within the trenches these men lived through some of the most brutal conditions of life, which it seemed could not be any worse.. It infected 28% of all Americans (Tice) An estimated 675,000 Americans died of influenza during the pandemic, ten times as many as in the world war.. Medical science for four and one-half years devoted itself to putting men on the firing line and keeping them there.. It's likely all of these factors, which stemmed from the widespread use of trench warfare, made World War I the deadliest conflict in global history to that point.. World War One marked a turning point in travel Prior to 1914, few people traversed long distances, limiting the spread of infectious diseases, such as influenza, from one place to another..
